What is this product?

Type – Life insurance linked to the Optimum Fund World Selection 100-1 Advanced investment fund with ISIN number BE6372500858 (the Investment Fund/Fund), which is a sub-fund of a fund of an investment company governed by Belgian law, Optimum Fund.

Objectives – The product aims to provide insurance cover for the insured person and offers an investment opportunity through the payment of a single premium.

The Optimum Fund World Selection 100-1 Advanced investment fund aims to repay, at the end of the contract term, the investment units purchased at an initial subscription price of EUR 1,000 per unit by investing in various assets such as bonds and cash, and to provide potential for returns through swap agreements linked to the performance of a basket of 30 shares.

At the end of the contract term, in addition to the net investment amount, a return is determined which is equal to the increase in the value of the basket of shares, with the maximum additional return being 50% of the net investment amount. Decreases in the value of the basket are not taken into account. Consequently, the return at the end of the contract term is a maximum of 50% of the net investment amount.

The Optimum Fund World Selection 100-1 Advanced investment fund invests in: • SPV bonds, other bonds and debt instruments, deposits and/or cash. SPVs are "special purpose vehicles" (Special Purpose Vehicles or SPVs) managed by KBC Asset Management or one of its subsidiaries, which issue financial instruments, and • swap agreements with one or more counterparties.

The fund pursues responsible investment objectives based on a two-pronged approach: negative screening and positive selection methodology. Negative screening means that the fund cannot invest in assets of issuers that are excluded on the basis of exclusion criteria (for example, specific turnover thresholds apply to tobacco, gambling and weapons). Further information on the exclusion policy can be found at www.kbc.be/investment-legal-documents > Exclusion Policy for Responsible Investment Funds. The positive screening methodology is based on supporting sustainable development by investing in bonds that finance green and/or social projects, and in issuers that contribute to the achievement of the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

The fund is denominated in euros.

Redemption orders for fund units are processed twice a month.

Further information regarding the fund's investment strategy and its composition can be found in the prospectus and the fund's Key Information Document at www.kbc.be/kid.

Survival to the end of the contract term	Beneficiaries will receive the value of the investment units held on the maturity date, but not less than the net investment premium and a return of up to 50% of the net investment premium. This protection of the investment premium against market fluctuations will not apply if you surrender the product before its expiry, including in the event of death.
Death as a result of an accident	In the event of death, the beneficiaries will receive the sum assured, in addition to the value of the investment units held, calculated at the current unit price on the first valuation date of the fund following notification of the event. In the event of the insured person's death during the term of the policy for a reason other than an accident, the beneficiaries will be paid the value of the investment units held in the 'fund, calculated at the unit price on the first valuation date of the fund following the submission of the claim, and the insurance policy will be terminated.

The value of the benefits is set out in the section 'What are the risks and what return might I receive?', along with information reflecting the typical biometric characteristics of the target individual investors. The total premium, the biometric risk premium (which forms part of the total premium) and its impact on the return on investment at the end of the recommended holding period, taken into account in the calculated one-off costs in the 'Costs over time' table, are presented.

What are the risks and what return might I receive?

The risk indicator is based on the assumption that you will hold the product for 5 years, 1 month and 12 days.
The actual risk may vary significantly if you cash in early, and the return may also be lower.

The summary risk indicator provides information on the level of risk associated with this product compared to other products. It shows the likelihood of a financial loss on this product as a result of market movements or because we may not be able to pay you.

We have assigned this product a risk category of 2 out of 7 – ‘low risk’. The potential loss from future performance is category 2 out of 7, and adverse market conditions are unlikely to affect our ability to pay you.

You are entitled to receive back at least 100% of your initial investment on the maturity date. Any amount above this, as well as any additional return, depends on future market performance and is uncertain. However, this protection against future market performance will not apply if you redeem the product before its maturity date. If we are unable to pay you the amount due, you may lose your entire investment.

Please note that there is a moderate inflation risk: there is no protection against rising inflation.
